Message from the CEO

We delivered positive results driven by increased customer production and steady growth in our e-mobility, structure, and chassis segment (EV/SC) – which is expected to grow at a rate of 28% by 2023 –. Despite inflationary headwinds, we were able to deliver higher EBITDA, thanks to our financial discipline and partial progress made in commercial negotiations to pass through the impact of inflation to our customers.

Our strategy execution continues to gain momentum, particularly in the transition to e-mobility. On one hand, we made significant progress in setting up new facilities dedicated to producing battery housings in Mexico, Germany, and the Czech Republic. On the other, we expanded our production capabilities for electric vehicles at existing facilities, launching new chassis applications for fully electric SUVs and crossovers in the European market. On the sales front, as our technological advancements position us as a trusted partner in the electric vehicle industry, we secured new business to supply battery housings for heavy commercial vehicles with a Europe-based manufacturer. This new business will deliver approximately US$90 million of yearly revenue, bringing our order book in the EV/SC segment to US$1.72 billion annually.

Our second-quarter results reaffirm the untapped growth potential of our EV/SC business. In addition to the new developments of e-mobility applications in light-vehicles, we see attractive opportunities in electrified commercial vehicles, further supported by new legislation. We will continue to drive technological innovation, seize new business opportunities, and collaborate with our customers to further advance along the path of e-mobility.

During the quarter, US light vehicle SAAR grew 17.2% year-over-year ("y-o-y") to 15.6 million units, as a result of sustained increase in production and pent-up demand. Light-vehicle production in North America was 4.0 million units, up 12.3% y-o-y, mainly attributed to the easing of supply chain constraints, specifically for semiconductors.

In Europe, light-vehicle SAAR and production amounted to 15.4 million and 4.4 million units, respectively, representing a 0.4% and 9.1% increase y-o-y. These figures, particularly production, were driven by the same factors that influenced the dynamics in the US and North America.

US$ Millions, except Volume and EBITDA / Eq. Unit

During 2Q23, volume increased 11.3% y-o-y to 10.9 million equivalent units, driven by higher production from Nemak's customers across all regions, derived from the sustained improvement in supply chain conditions; and the ramp-up of EV/SC segment production.

2Q23 revenue totaled US$1.3 billion, up 10.5% y-o-y, supported by higher volume and an improved product mix.

2Q23 EBITDA increased 2.7% y-o-y to US$153 million, driven by higher volume and sales, as well as partial progress in customer negotiations, which more than offset new product launching expenses, the appreciation of the Mexican peso against the US dollar, and inflationary impacts.

EBITDA per equivalent unit for 2Q23 was US$14.0, down 7.9% y-o-y, primarily due to new product launching expenses, inflation, and currency effects. 2Q23 Operating Income was US$64 million, down 13.2% y-o-y, reflecting the same factors that influenced EBITDA performance, as well as higher depreciation and amortization, and the impairment of obsolete assets in North America of US$6 million.

2Q23 Net Income was US$20 million, compared to US$30 million in 2Q22. This variation was mainly due to the same factors that influenced Operating Income, combined with higher interest expense and foreign exchange loss associated with the appreciation of the Mexican peso against the US dollar.

Capital expenditure totaled US$131 million in 2Q23, up 42.4% compared to US$92 million in 2Q22. These resources were mainly invested to new product launches in the EV/SC segment.

As of June 30, 2023, Nemak reported a net debt of US$1.5 billion. The financial ratios were Net Debt to LTM EBITDA, 2.7 times; and Interest Coverage, 6.6 times. These ratios compare with 2.3 and 5.1 times, respectively, at the end of 2Q22.

Regional Results

North America

In 2Q23, revenue grew 9.7% y-o-y, driven by an 11.7% y-o-y volume growth, resulting from increased customer production and new product launches in the EV/SC segment. However, 2Q23 EBITDA declined by 11.4% y-o-y, as higher product launching expenses, inflationary pressures, and the appreciation of the Mexican peso against the US dollar, offset the combined effect of higher volume, partial inflation recovery, and an improved product mix.

Europe

2Q23 revenue increased 13.3% y-o-y, thanks to an 8.3% y-o-y increase in volume driven by the same factors observed in North America. Additionally, 2Q23 EBITDA increased 8.1% y-o-y, mainly due to higher volume, partial progress on commercial negotiations, and an improved product mix, which more than offset the effects of inflation.

Rest of the World

In 2Q23, revenue increased 6.3% y-o-y, driven by an 18.2% y-o-y increase in volume. 2Q23 EBITDA increased by 113.3% y-o-y, driven by new product launches and an improved product mix.
